

My Visit to Pleasant Sense Farm

Soon, I will be visiting a farm near Mount Pleasant.

This farm is called Pleasant Sense Farm.

When we arrive, a friendly dog called 'Wati' will bark at us because he is taught to bark at people he doesn't know.

The friendly dog will be behind a fence so he can't get out.

A farmer called 'Tanya' will welcome us and show us where to go to start the tour.

There might be other children standing next to me who I don't know because they are visiting the farm too. They are all home schooled children just like me.

Farmer Tanya will talk to everyone and tell us what we might see and do during our visit.

At the farm there are lots of different animals.

We will see goats, chickens, cows, alpacas, sheep and a donkey.

If the chickens have laid eggs that morning, we may be able to take turns to collect an egg each from under a chicken. Farmer Tanya will help us and make sure everyone has the same opportunity to get a turn and doesn't miss out.

If I don't want to collect an egg, I can watch someone else do it. This will be ok.

The animals know the sound of a bell. When the animals hear the bell, they may come and greet us.

We can all take turns to ring the bell if we want to. If I don't want to ring the bell, that's ok.

At the farm, I might be able to touch some of the animals.

It all depends on how the animals are feeling that day. Sometimes they love a pat but other times they might not. Some animals might prefer to stand back and watch us.

If I don't want to touch the animals, I can watch someone else do it. That will be ok too.

Farmer Tanya will bring some food for the animals. The donkey loves carrots!

Some of the animals might eat some food from our hands if the animal feels like it. Other animals may prefer to stand back and just watch us. That's ok.

If I just want to watch others hand feed the animals, that's fine too.

We should all stay together at the farm. I should not go off on my own.

Farmer Tanya will stay with us while we visit all the animals. She will make sure we stay safe.

We will see a big red motorbike with 4 wheels. The motorbike will not turn on or move.

We can take turns to sit on the motorbike if we want to.

I might want my photo taken so I can remember my exciting farm visit!

The Farm has lots of different sounds.

I might hear cows mooing, the dog barking, chickens clucking, goats bleating, the wind swirling through the trees, birds singing, people chatting or the bell ringing.

On our way back, Farmer Tanya will take us to the secret 'fairy forest' where we can see their fairy house.

If I am getting overwhelmed, I can tell someone I know. We can go somewhere quiet until I feel better.

When the tour is over, Farmer Tanya will invite us to have some food and a drink near the house.

If I don't want to have anything to eat or drink, that is ok too.

Before we leave, I can have some play time near the house if I want to, and explore the nature garden.

Then it will be time to leave the farm and drive back home.
